Story Summary

The story revolves around a small tailor named Simpkin and his faithful cat, Simpkin. One snowy Christmas Eve, a swallow flies into the tailor's shop and falls ill. Unable to fly back to its warm nest, the swallow faces certain death.

Simpkin and Simpkin take pity on the helpless bird and nurse it back to health. In gratitude, the swallow promises to return the favor. As the snow continues to fall and Christmas approaches, Simpkin finds himself overwhelmed with work. He must complete a waistcoat for the Mayor of Gloucester by the next morning.

With time running out, Simpkin despairs until the swallow arrives with a group of its bird friends. Together, they work tirelessly throughout the night, sewing and stitching the waistcoat to perfection. As dawn breaks, the waistcoat is finished, and Simpkin delivers it to the Mayor just in time.

Characters
